Mahealani Suapaia

PBS opens your mind to all kinds of topics. Things that you may not have thought you were interested in but after seeing a show there you may want to look for into that topic.

Unnatural Causes was about the impact of nuclear testing on the Marchalese population. As a nurse this program has changed me. I really think that knowledge has a lot to do with our understanding of the culture.

My name is Mahealani Suapaia. PBS is my source for understanding global health care issues.
